FROM THE DRIVER'S SEAT

- Isak Fischer

The SAVVA 55th AGM took place on September 7, 2024, at the EPVCC Gqeberha, Eastern Cape. Our team - Sakkie Fischer, Frik Kraamwinkel, and Emil Kuschke - attended, representing the Pretoria Old Motor Club and the Model T Ford Club of South Africa

Highlights:

- Social media training: SAVVA's investment paid off, boosting online presence.
- Constitution review: Phase one complete; special AGM upcoming.
- SARS compliance: Clubs, ensure registration and good standing.
- Clearance certificates: Obtain yearly certificates from SAVVA.
- Vehicle dating: Seems to be not a priority with members.
- Technical updates: Easier PDF downloads on SAVVA website.
- Insurance scheme: SAVVA-Puma partnership offers affordable coverage with valuation and dating certificate.
- Government engagement: National Council exploring meetings with relevant Departments.
- 25-year roll-over cutoff proposed by the POMC were passed. Amendments to the constitution to be made at a special AGM.

Awards & Recognition:

- Chairman's Award: POMC for promoting regularity rallies.
- President's Award: Peter Bullbring for outstanding contributions.
- National events calendar: Cars in the Park and Magnum Rally included on the national events calendar of SAVVA.

Key Takeaways:

- SAVVA clubs are vital to vintage motorsport.
- Stay SARS-compliant.
- Leverage discounted insurance.
- Engage with Government.

A successful AGM, setting the stage for growth and collaboration!

Pretoria Old Motor Club Honoured with Prestigious Trophy from SAVVA

By Isak Fischer

The Pretoria Old Motor Club (POMC) has been recognized for its outstanding contributions to the vintage and veteran car movement in Southern Africa.

The club was presented with the chairman's trophy of the Southern Africa Vintage and Veteran Association (SAVVA) for its exceptional efforts in promoting vintage car rallies and preserving the heritage of older vehicles.

This esteemed trophy is awarded annually to a club or member that demonstrates excellence in promoting SAVVA's objectives and actively participates in the organization's events.

POMC's dedication to organizing and hosting successful rallies has not only showcased the beauty of vintage cars but also fostered a sense of community among enthusiasts.

"We are thrilled to receive this recognition from SAVVA," said Neil Stander, Chairman of POMC. "Our club is passionate about preserving the history and charm of vintage cars, and we are committed to continuing our efforts in promoting this wonderful hobby."

POMC's achievements are a testament to the club's hard work and dedication to the vintage car movement. As an active member of SAVVA, POMC has consistently demonstrated its commitment to the organization's goals and values.

The trophy was accepted by the POMC representatives at the AGM.

POMC Cars and Bikes at the Club 2024

- By Daantjie Badenhorst

The Pretoria Old Motor Club (POMC) held its Cars and Bikes at the Club event on Sunday the 8th of September 2024.

The one car that attracted more attention than any other was Bob Bouwmeesters's 1933 Rolls-Royce 20/25. He has owned this car for five years; when it was new, a funeral undertaker in England used it to transport funeral goers. It was originally painted burgundy and black but the color was changed to British Racing White in 2009. Bob is the sixth owner of this car. A total of 3 800 of these cars were manufactured and more than 75% are still running. Before World War II, the company manufactured only bespoke coach built cars. The person Bob bought it from only travelled short distances and never traveled faster than 60 mph.

In 1964, the Rover P6 was chosen as the first European Car of the Year, and this model range was a huge success until it was replaced by the SD 1. Christo Ferreira displayed his P6 2000, but because he does not have the registration documents, it is not possible to establish the model year. Because his car is an early example of this range, it would be approximately a 1965 or 1966 model. He obtained the car about four years ago when he swapped a Chevrolet C 10 pick-up for it. He has overhauled the rear brakes and fitted an electric fuel pump. He intends respraying the car at some point.

Alex Duffy's 1956 Jaguar XK 120 MC always attracts a lot of attention. It was manufactured in May 1956 but the intended owner did not take delivery because it is left hand drive. After it was sold to a Latin American export firm it was sent to Caracas, where the Belgian ambassador to Venezuela bought it. When he was sent to South Africa, he brought the car with him and Alex bought it in 1967. He has owned it since then. The MC designation denoted the cylinder head from the C-Type racing car, wire wheels and dual exhaust pipes.

The Chevrolet Firenza was developed from the Vauxhall HC Viva and was introduced in 1971. Two years later, the late Basil van Rooyen developed the Can Am for motor racing, based on the coupé and powered by the 302 cubic inch (4 942 cm³) engine from the Chevrolet Camaro Z/28. The reason why the 5 047 cm³ engine from the Constantia and El Camino was not used, was that the rules dictated that the engine size had to be smaller than 5 000 cm³. It was the only car that won the South African motor racing and rally championship in the same year. In 1973, Jan Hettema won the championship on the track and Louis Cloete won the rallying championship. Mickey van Wyk owns the 81st of the 100 Canams that were manufactured. The car looks original but he fitted a 383 cubic inch (6 286 cm³) engine to it. Although the engine compartment was not designed for anything larger than a 2.3 litre engine, he had no trouble in fitting this engine.

Willem Pretorius owns a few Fiats, including a 125 OTS Scorpion and a 131 2000 Racing. The car he displayed was an X 1/9. It is officially badged as a Bertone, after its designer. After Fiat pulled out of South Africa in 1980, Alfa Romeo took over the manufacture and distribution of the 128 pick-up, and continued importing the X 1/9 in limited numbers. This car was powered by the 1.5 litre engine from the Ritmo, a car that was never available in South Africa. Willem's car was manufactured in 1985 and imported to South Africa just before Alfa Romeo pulled out of South Africa.

The Fiat 124 was a popular car from the late 1960's to the mid-1970's but has disappeared from South Africa's roads. The Special T (ST) was the top model in the range and was powered by the same double overhead camshaft engine as the 125 Special. André Kotze's 124 ST is an early 1973 model, and was manufactured before a new Fiat badge was fitted to the grille. This car is completely original, but two aftermarket pop-up sunroofs have been fitted.

The next event on the POMC calendar will be the Spring Festival on the 13th of October.

Cars of the Lowlands

by Joe H. Palmer

Nederwagens

So, what do you do if André Rieu is not due to visit South Africa soon? Then you and your friends will visit him in his hometown - Maastricht. Off we flew to Paris from where we would explore France, Belgium and the Netherlands. Then ending our tour with a bang, attending André Rieu's show in Maastricht. I rented a car in France and with that we explored the country. When it was time, we travelled to the outskirts of Maastricht where we stayed on the Belgium side of the border – simply because for the tax benefits.

Die André Rieu vertoning sou die Saterdag wees maar die Vrydag besluit ek om na die Maastricht stadsplein te ry waar daar reeds 'n vertoning aan is, sodat ek seker is van die roete en parkeering. Daar aangekom word ons gestop deur die organiseerders. Die man blaf iets deur my oop venster. In my beste Afrikaans groet ek en verduidelik hoekom ons daar is. Meteens verander die man se frons in 'n glimlag en ek besef dat die Franse nommerplaat op die kar die man laat dink het ons is Franse. Hy praat op die radio, die hekke swaai oop en ons parkeer. Onder begeleiding word ons vergesel tot op die plein. Ek verduidelik, "ons het nie kaartjies nie". Dit maak nie saam nie – ons is in.

Lesse geleer – moenie met 'n Frankryk geregistreerde kar in Nederland rond ry nie. Niemand sal dink jy is oulik nie. Tweedens, Afrikaans werk, nie Engels nie maar ook verseker nie Frans nie. Maar ons voel skuldig oor ons toegang sonder kaartjies en spandeer ons die res van die middag en aand in Maastricht. So eindig ons op by 'n stalletjie met herdenkings en ons stap deur. Maar hoe verder ons deur stap merk ek op dat die items vreemd raak. Hier vind ek my vrou met 'n item in haar hand en ek vra wat dit is. "Dis 'n soutpot en daar is die peperpot in die vorm van 'n sampioen", kom die antwoord. "Kyk mooi", sê ek, "Dis nie 'n sampioen nie, dis 'n man se....."! Voor ek my sin kon voltooi staan ons buite en dit was ook die einde van die shopping.

You may not appreciate the shopping, but one can appreciate the architecture and the love for classic cars. Here it is quite expensive to maintain a classic and to keep it on the road. But for these oldies, the Dutch will walk the extra mile.

We found this true Fiat 124 in Heemskerk with its original rims and in excellent condition.

'n Vreemde maar "roestige" omgewing vir hierdie Land Rover.

Al ons vriende in Nederland en België is kar liefhebbers. Maar dit is duur om so 'n voertuig te onderhou en dit verg baie administrasie en oorsig deur die owerhede. Luke en Marge Blom is die enigste paartjie wat werklik Peugeots versamel het. Maar Den Haag se regulasies maak dit nie maklik nie. Maar die ondersteunings infrastruktuur vir ou motors in Nederland is baie goed, tot so 'n mate dat dit 'n goeie bron is vir Suid Afrikaanse versamelaars – natuurlik teen Euro-pryse.

Ons het nie die infrastruktuur van Nederland nie en ons het dalk ook nie die bron van ou karre nie, maar ons het entoesiasme, vernuf, kundigheid en mekaar. Maar ons het een belangrike voordeel bekend as "'n boer maak 'n plan". Selfs al is van hierdie boere ook ons eie Nederlanders.

So, if you ever plan a visit to Belgium or the Netherlands, make sure you provide for time to explore the local car museums – which I haven't even addressed here. Make time to explore the streets and "everyday" cars on the street. The people will gladly share their stories and enthusiasm with you. You might make a friend or two, because we have so much in common.
